

Anna Bernabè

Università degli Studi di Ferrara (Italy)

AIB - Associazione Italiana Biblioteche (Italian Library Association)

Since 2005 she has been working at the Library System of the University of Ferrara, where she is mostly involved in the management of special collections. Anna is PhD Candidate at the Department of Classical Philology and Italian Studies of the University of Bologna (Italy), working on the enhancement of academic libraries' heritage and special collections within the strategic frameworks of University's Third Mission and UN 2030 Agenda.

In 2019-2020 she was Erasmus+ PhD student at the Historical Library of the University of Valencia (Spain), where she participated in a pilot project aimed at assessing the impact of locally relevant special collections on library audiences.

As a member of the AIB Emilia-Romagna Regional Executive Committee 2020-2023, she is interested especially in the action of libraries for the 2030 Agenda, topic about which the Committee has recently carried out a survey in cooperation with the AIB Observatory on Libraries and Sustainable Development.

In 2021 Anna run a workshop, organized by AIB Emilia-Romagna, about library design in compliance with the 2030 Agenda. In the same year she took on the role of «facilitator» for the Virtual Lab 6.1 (Job and occupational retraining), one of the 10 Labs on «libraries and sustainable development» promoted by EBLIDA, AIB and Rete delle Reti.
